

Give The Gift Of Knowledge This Christmas With The Wine Society's Education Programme

It is a universal truth that shoppers worldwide scour stores every Christmas looking for the perfect gift or experience: something fun, something unique and something that their loved ones can remember for years to come.

With this in mind, the Wine Society is proud to present its Education Programme. With a range of courses on offer making the programmes accessible to both the wine initiate and the cultural connoisseur, the Education Programme provides the answers to every question about wine worth asking.

How can you tell if a bottle is cork-tainted? What's the fundamental difference between a Riesling and a Chardonnay? Why is one bottle of shiraz $8 and the other $48?

With a range of courses on offer, there is a Wine Society Education Programme sure to suit all wine enthusiasts. By giving the ones you love a Wine Society Education Programme this Xmas, you can be sure they are not only thinking of you every time they open a new bottle, but they appreciate what they are drinking as well.

Introductory Course

Provides a comprehensive eight-hour summary about the role of the winemaker, the effect of the climate in which grapes are grown, and how to spot faulty wines.

RRP $200

Intermediate Course

Provides a more technical look at wines and familiarizes students with the kaleidoscopic nuances of wine, whilst the various master classes teach students about the effects of climate, yield, mechanisation and age for the vast variety of wine.

RRP $200

The Wine Society Education Programmes are available nationally. Visit www.thewinesociety.com.au for further information.
